READ—

Annual Report of the Inspector General of Registration in Mysore for 1878—79.

No. 3762—GENL. 750, DATED BANGALORE, 1ST AUGUST 1879.

ORDER THEREON.—The total number of documents registered during the year was 16,513, this is less by 868 than the number in 1877—78, but that was altogether an exceptional year. The greatest increase in 1877—78 was in documents affecting immovable property of less than Rs. 100 in value; it is natural therefore to find that the decrease in documents relating to the transfer of immovable property occurred almost entirely in those of the like small value, notwithstanding a change instituted during the year for the encouragement of optional registration by which such documents, if affecting property under 50 Rs. in value, are registered for 8 annas in place of Re. 1; which, too, had some effect as is exemplified by the fact that almost [illegible] per cent of the documents relating to immovable property of less than Rs. 100 value were below the value of Rs. 50.

2. In the District returns the increase and decrease of registrations of immovable property of over Rs. 100 in value, indicate almost exactly the Districts which suffered most from famine where registrations were abnormally increased and where the tide has now turned. Bangalore exhibits a steady increase which may probably be ascribed to material growth.

3. To Bangalore also belong 66 out of the 95 documents by which registrations relating to movable property have increased.

4. The value of property transferred by registered documents relating to immovable property was Rs. 47,22,671, and by those relating to movable property Rs. 2,11,719; the latter amount is proportionally greater than the value of such documents registered in the year before just as the number of them is greater.

5. The average cost of registration was 0—11—1 per cent on the value of immovable property and 0—7—10 per cent on that of movable property. This is a slight increase. The average registration fee per document was Rs. 2—9—9 for compulsory documents and Rs. 1—1—6 for optional. The former being 0—7—2 higher and the latter 1½ annas lower than in 1877—78.

6. The receipts during the year amounted to Rs. 39,783, the largest amount ever collected. This fact is due to the change in the fees chargeable, the increase on compulsory registrations being more than enough to compensate the reduction on some classes of optional registration. The expenditure increased with the increased collection of fees. Since the greater part of it is paid away in commission to Sub-Registrars, an expenditure of Rs. 25,335 leaves the large balance in favor of the Department of Rs. 14,448.

7. Inspection of Sub-Registrars' Offices has been done more thoroughly than in the previous year, and it seems that the work reported upon is carried on in an efficient manner.

Secretary.

Proceedings of the Chief Commissioner of Mysore in the General Department, (General),—5th August 1879.

READ—

Annual Reports by the Deputy Surgeon General for 1878 upon (1) Medical and Sanitary, (2) Hospitals and Dispensaries and (3) Special Hospitals.

No. 3807—M. 49, DATED BANGALORE, 5TH AUGUST 1879.

ORDER.—The rain-fall of 1878 was seasonable and copious, the humidity of the year was high being 7 per cent more than in 1877, and the temperature was about the same. The favorable season produced bountiful crops, and greatly relieved the high prices prevailing in the Province.

2. The health of the Native Army stationed in the Province has not been good, but there is a marked improvement upon the statistics of 1877.

3. In the jails of the Province the health of the convicts was worse even than in 1877, and the abnormally high-death rate of that year was actually increased, and in 1878 it stood at 282·69. There was no epidemic whereby to account for this most deplorable mortality, nor were the jails more crowded than in 1877; the excessive sickness and mortality are mainly to be accounted for by the very anœmic state of the prisoners on admission.

4. In two jails, Chitaldroog and Hassan, the proportion of deaths to average strength was more than cent per cent. These jails had the highest rate of mortality in 1877 also, and in seasons of exceptional sickness it must ever be so, for the long-term prisoners who are well enough to move are sent away from those jails and only the short-term convicts and invalids are left. In all the jails in the Province except the Central Jail at Bangalore, the ratio of admissions to hospital was higher than in 1877, and in all but two the ratio of deaths was higher. The two jails where signs of the improvement, which has in fact generally set in since the period of which the report treats, had already been manifested in the year 1878 are Shimoga and Chikmagalur. These are in the Districts which were least affected by famine and where recovery from its effects began. In the review of last year's report it was remarked that the excessive mortality in Chikmagalur Jail could not be ascribed to overcrowding, and must be accepted as a proof of the general unhealthiness of the season. This is further exemplified by the fact that in 1878 the Chikmagalur Jail which ranked third in 1877 in point of high mortality, is now the lowest in the Province.

5. The vital statistics of the general population are too evidently inaccurate to do more than indicate the leading features of the year's history. There has plainly been a decreased birth-rate, consequent on the low condition of the people, and there has been a high mortality, although both the rate and the actual number of deaths have been much below those of 1877. The births registered number 12,782, and the deaths during the year are returned at 73,343; but if the returns of the Bangalore Municipality be accepted as correct and the same ratios be applied to the rest of the Province, the probability is that there were five times the number of births actually registered, and that the registered deaths should be more than doubled. The year's history of chief diseases from which deaths have occurred shews a gradual return to the normal condition of the Province. There was very little of either cholera or small-pox when compared with 1877, and deaths from 'bowel-complaints', though twice as numerous as in a normal year, shew a very marked decline from the heavy mortality from this class of disease during 1877. Fevers were very prevalent and to them are ascribed 8·88 per mille of the total 13·32 registered. Especially in the Nagar Division was fever prevalent and fatal, and indeed this circumstance is the most noteworthy in the history of the year.

6. The number of hospitals and dispensaries in the Province has remained unaltered at 19. The number of persons treated during 1878 was greater than in 1877 and reached 177,429, but the number of in-door or hospital patients fell from 7,637 to 4,851. The reason for the decrease in the latter class was probably that a greater number of destitute sick found an asylum in the special famine hospitals which were more numerous and better organized in 1878 than in 1877. The ratio of deaths among hospital patients was 21·71 per cent of the total number treated. The most fatal diseases were cholera, diarrhœa, dropsy and continued fever.

7. There are two special hospitals in Bangalore, the Lunatic Asylum and Leper Hospital. In the Lunatic Asylum there were an average daily number of 124·8 patients. During the year ten had been discharged cured, one improved, three had absconded and sixteen died. Compared with the past three years, 1878 shews favorably, for it exhibits at once the least number of deaths and the highest percentage of recoveries.

8. In the Leper Asylum the number at the end of the year was 43. Eighteen had been admitted during the year. There were ten deaths, six inmates absconded and two were discharged. During the two preceding years the number of admissions and deaths were both very high. In 1878 there has been a return to the normal condition.

The Annual Report on Vaccination in Mysore, for the year 1878—79.

No. 3808—50, DATED BANGALORE, 5TH AUGUST 1879.

ORDER.—The constitution of the Vaccination Department has remained unaltered during the year. The want of properly organized supervision is acknowledged, but the remedy is not easily applied in a time of great financial pressure. The subject is however under consideration. The number of operations performed reached 89,973 which is less by 12,007 than in the previous year. The principal cause of this decrease is that in the Nagar Division occasion was taken in the previous year to vaccinate inmates of relief camps in large numbers. and this year the opportunity did not recur to so great an extent.

2. The percentage of successful cases was 81·31 against 83·60 in the previous year: this decrease is ascribed to the low state of vitality of the people operated on, but it is also reported that the lymph received from the Vaccine Institution failed in the Nagar Division.

3. The cost of the Department has been Rs. 10,721 which shews a proportional decrease upon the year before, producing the same average cost (2 as 4 p.) for each successful operation.

Proceedings of the Chief Commissioner of Mysore in the General Department, (General),—25th August 1879.

READ—

Annual Report on the Money Order Department, for the year 1878—79.

No. 4020—GENL. 807, DATED BANGALORE, 15TH AUGUST 1879.

ORDER.—In reviewing the Report for 1877—78, it was remarked that number and value of orders issued had greatly increased, that there was a decrease in the number and value of orders paid and that in the dealings between Mysore and the Government of India Circles, the value of the orders drawn exceeded that of orders paid in Mysore by Rs. 64,000. During 1878—79, these movements have been reversed; the number and value of orders issued have fallen from 7,684 and Rs. 2,71,811 to 7,337 and Rs. 2,35,471: the number and value of orders paid have increased from 6,526 and Rs. 2,08,606 to 7,159 and Rs. 2,15,949, and although the value of orders issued by Mysore on Offices in British India still exceeds that of the orders paid by Mysore, the difference is reduced from Rs. 64,000 to Rs. 19,000. The transactions in Overland Money Orders are very small and have decreased slightly during the year. No Continental orders were either drawn or paid.

2. The cost of Establishment amounted to Rs. 1,411, being nearly Rs. 100 less than in the previous year, chiefly owing to purchase in 1877—78 of Rs. 90 worth of water-marked paper. The abolition of the Saklespur agency from 31st December 1878 makes a permanent decrease in Establishment.

3. Commission at 1 per cent on the amount of money orders drawn by Mysore on Indian Circles was paid to the Government of India and to Berar amounting to Rs. 1,259, the realizations on account of orders paid in Mysore being Rs. 1,016. The profit to Government, after making a charge as contribution for pensions, is Rs. 1,018—15—2.

Proceedings of the Chief Commissioner of Mysore in the Revenue Department, (Revenue, Agriculture and Commerce),—8th August 1879.

From the Rev. Secretary to the Chief Commissioner of Mysore, To the Secretary to the Govt. of India, Foreign Dept., Simla, GL No. 2228—R. 33, dated Bangalore, 6th June 1879.

In acknowledging your letter of the 2nd ultimo, No. 30 I. R., I am directed to state that the Chief Commissioner's views in regard to the nature of the kayamgutta tenures and the manner in which he proposes to treat them are correctly indicated in para 2 of the above letter.

2. With reference to the remarks in para 3, the Chief Commissioner desires to explain that the necessity for the present reference has arisen in this manner. It will be seen that the order of the Government, dated the 12th January 1869, para 4, whilst postponing present enquiry into the matter on account of the heart-burning and irritation it might occasion to the present holders of these tenures, left the question of their future treatment undecided. And in their recent order of the 24th May 1877, the Government sanctioned an enquiry simply to determine the value of the villages in order to secure a proper basis for the assessment of the local cess; but they particularly enjoined that there should be no enquiry into the questions whether these tenures are heritable and alienable, and whether their assessment is liable to revision, and they desired that no guarantee should be given implying that the present assessment is not liable to revision. The notification issued from this Office on the 25th August 1877, accordingly directed in para 2 that there should be no enquiry into the questions above referred to; but in para 3, the notification authorized the kayamgutta villages not held on proper authority, to be treated as joli inams and enfranchised on the payment of an additional quit-rent. The enfranchisement thus conferred on these inferior and doubtful tenures a permanent heritable and alienable right, whilst the holders of the kayamgutta villages held on undisputed authority were left in uncertainty without any settlement of their rights.

3. Mr Gordon's proposals then, as already stated, are:—1st, to recognize the kayamgutta villages held on unquestionably good authority as permanent heritable and transferable tenures, not subject to any revision of the assessment; 2ndly, to confer the same right on the kayamgutta grants held on defective title on payment of an additional assessment equal to one-half of their net value on the principles laid down for the inam settlement; and 3rdly, to resume and bring under the ordinary Survey assessment kayamgutta grants which are of recent and fraudulent origin.

4. Mr. Gordon however desires to add that several of these grants though held on good title, such as sanads from the late Maha Raja, do not appear to have been based on a proper enquiry into the value of the lands, but to have been given simply as gifts for the personal benefit of the grantees. In such cases it seems scarcely fair to the Government to recognize them as permanently settled estates. They partake more of the character of personal inams, and Mr. Gordon proposes to treat them as such, and enfranchise them on the rates of quit-rent provided for in the Inam Rules.

5. I am to add that the kayamgutta grants in the whole Province amount to 389 villages and 309 hamlets of the estimated beriz or value according to old accounts, of Rs. 78,257, out of which they pay to the Government a rent of Rs. 61,957. The revenue alienated in these grants would therefore amount to Rs. 16,300, but the beriz shewn in the accounts cannot be taken to be strictly accurate. The lands at the time of their grant were generally, if not always, uncultivated, and necessarily of an inferior quality, and the expectation of a permanent assessment doubtless led to their cultivation and improvement. The settlement proposed, whilst it will bring in some addition to the Government revenue, will, Mr. Gordon believes, also prove satisfactory to the holders of the grants who will gladly pay the additional assessment required to secure an undisputed permanent title.

From the Assistant Secretary to the Govt. of India, Foreign Department, To the Chief Commissioner of Mysore, Revenue, No. 60 I. R., dated Simla, the 29th July 1879.

I am directed to acknowledge your Secretary's letter No. 2228—33, dated 6th June 1879, submitting your views in regard to the nature of kayamgutta tenures in Mysore and the manner in which they should be treated.

2. In reply I am to say that there appears to be no objection to your proposals as stated in paragraph 3 of the letter under acknowledgment. There is, however, one point which is not yet quite clear. In paragraph 4 you propose to treat as inams, and to levy a quit-rent upon, several of these grants, which are held in good title, because they were given without proper enquiry into the nature of the lands, while in paragraph 3 you recommend that villages held on unquestionably good authority should be recognized as not subject to any revision of assessment.

3. In order to prevent the possibility of any misapprehension, I am to say that His Excellency the Governor General in Council will be obliged if you will have the goodness to explain precisely the nature and grounds of the distinction which you propose to draw between these two classes of villages, both of which, it is understood, are admittedly held in good titles.

Proceedings of the Chief Commissioner of Mysore in the Revenue Department, (Revenue, Agriculture and Commerce),—16th August 1879.

From the Rev. Secretary to the Chief Commissioner of Mysore, To the Secretary to the Govt. of India, Foreign Dept. Simla, No. 1870—17, dated Bangalore, 8th August 1879.

In reply to Assistant Secretary Mr. Durand's letter dated the 29th ultimo, No. 60 I. R., I have the honor, by direction of the Chief Commissioner, to explain that kayamgutta were tenures intended to promote cultivation under the incentive of a permanent assessment based on the then existing revenue. It is believed, however, that several grants made in the late Maha Raja's administration, though under the name of kayamgutta, were not bonâ fide such, but were assessed with arbitrary rents more or less favorable to the grantees, vide para 8 of Mr. Bowring's letter dated the 2nd December 1868, No. 4919—R. 239.

2. Though in these cases the grants rested on competent authority, such as sannads from the late Maha Raja, they were not strictly of the nature of kayamgutta, but partook more of the character of gifts for the personal benefit of the grantees. Mr. Gordon therefore considered that such cases would be more properly treated as valid personal inams or favorably assessed tenures under the Inam Rules, being liable to the additional charge of a quit-rent for conversion into alienable and permanent tenures.

3. In cases where not only the title is good, but the tenure is really kayamgutta, the assessment having been based on due inquiry into the resources of the village, the grants will be respected as such and will not be subject to any revision of assessment or other additional charge.

No. 1871-33—Rev. 331, dated Bangalore, 8th August 1879.

Order thereon.—The Inam Commissioner is requested to issue instructions for thesettlement of all the kayamgutta villages in the Province on the principles laid down in paras 3 and 4 of this office letter to the Government of India, dated the 6th June 1879, and approved by the Government of India. A further communication will be made on receipt of the final decision of the Government of India in respect to the cases referred to in para 4 of the said letter.

(2). Letter from the Judicial Commissioner, Mysore, No. 1714—199, dated 4th August 1879.

No. 2126-38—Rev. 372, dated Bangalore, 16th August 1879.

Order thereon.—The Chief Commissioner observes that in the new Stamp Act I of 1879, Article 16 is expressly introduced in Schedule I providing for stamp duty on certificates of sale granted for property sold by public auction by a Civil or Revenue Court or Collector or other Revenue Officer. The Government of India's Notification of 24th October 1873 exempting certificates of sale granted by Civil Courts from stamp duty, is therefore virtually cancelled by the aforesaid provision in the new Act, and certificates of sale, whether granted by Civil Courts or by Revenue Officers in the case of lands sold for arrears of revenue, are liable to stamp duty.

2. The printed forms of certificates hitherto used by the Revenue Officers should be discontinued, and the certificates for land sold for arrears of revenue written on stamp paper of the proper value. Certificates already given on plain paper since the introduction of the new Stamp Act should be recalled and stamped in the manner prescribed in Sections 38 and 39 of the Act.

Docket from the Deputy Commissioner, Kolar District, No. 679—205, dated 15th July 1879.

No. 2305-11—REV. 394, DATED BANGALORE, 19TH AUGUST 1879.

ORDER THEREON.—In the above docket, the Deputy Commissioner solicits orders as to what should be done in regard to the collection of contributions towards the repair of tanks engaged to be paid by kodigidars whose inam lands have since been enfranchised and confirmed upon a quit-rent for life.

2. The Chief Commissioner observes that the enfranchisement of kodigi inams releases the kodigidars not only from their liability for the future repairs but must also, to a certain extent, render void the previous engagements entered into by them in the prospect of their continuing to enjoy the inam lands undisturbed. It must, however, on the other hand, be remarked that the contributions were also due on account of the kodigidars' past enjoyment of the inams and their neglect to repair the tanks; but the kodigi Inam Rules I and II, it is seen, provide for varying terms of settlement according as the kodigidars kept up the tanks in fair condition or not. On the whole, the Chief Commissioner considers that in respect of these contributions, the kodigidars could now be held liable only to the extent of the value of the inams enjoyed by them from the date of their engagements up to the date of the enfranchisement of the inams; and that any balance of the contributions remaining uncollected should be written off the accounts.

From the Secretary to the Chief Commissioner of Mysore, Revenue Department, To the Secretary to the Government of India, Foreign Department, Simla, No. 1271—1, dated 5th July 1879.

With reference to the circular instructions of the Government of India in the Department of Revenue, Agriculture and Commerce, dated the 5th August 1872, transferring to Municipalities the proceeds of the sale or lease of lands situated within their limits and requiring that the same should be treated as an endowment to the Municipalities and invested by them or laid out on reproductive works calculated to bring in an income, I am desired by the Chief Commissioner to state that where these proceeds are small in amount as is usually the case, they cannot conveniently be employed in the manner laid down, and that they greatly encumber the public accounts in being retained as public deposits without any prospect of their accumulating to any considerable sum. The Chief Commissioner therefore requests that he may be authorized to treat the proceeds, where small in amount, as a part of the current income of the respective Municipalities, available for their ordinary expenditure.

From the Assistant Secretary to the Government of India, Foreign Department, To the Chief Commissioner of Mysore, Revenue, No. 63, I. R., dated Simla, the 13th August 1879.

I am directed to acknowledge your Secretary's letter No. 1271—1, dated 5th July 1879, regarding the disposal of the proceeds, when small, of the sale or lease of lands situated within the limits of Municipalities in Mysore.

2. In reply, I am to inform you that the Governor General in Council is pleased to authorize you to treat all receipts of the kind described up to a limit of rupees one hundred (100) in each case, as a part of the current revenue of the respective Municipalities not to be invested as capital.

No. 2510-21—MI. 124, DATED BANGALORE, 28TH AUGUST 1879.

ORDER THEREON.—The several Municipalities in the Province will in future treat all receipts from the sale or lease of lands situated within municipal limits in the manner above laid down, and will also arrange to recredit to their current revenues any items of similar receipts not exceeding Rs. 100 each which may now stand to their credit in the deposit accounts.

Proceedings of the Chief Commissioner of Coorg, General Department, 4th August 1879.

READ—

The following Annual Reports by the Deputy Surgeon General ;—

1. Annual Medical and Sanitary Report for 1878.
2. Report on Hospitals and Dispensaries for 1878.
3. Report on Vaccination for 1878—79.

No. 438—GENL. 69, DATED BANGALORE, 4TH AUGUST 1879.

ORDER THEREON.—It is remarkable that the rain-fall in Coorg during 1878 should have been 10·27 inches less than in 1877. The mean temperature of the year was 64°.

2. Among the soldiers of the 28th Regiment, Native Infantry, which was stationed at Mercara, there were 758 admissions into hospital and 14 deaths. This was double the sickness and mortality of 1877. It does not appear that there were any adverse circumstances specially affecting the health of the troops. The season generally was unhealthy, malaria was unusually prevalent, and probably dear and unwholesome food caused much of the sickness and prevented those attacked from readily recovering.

3. In the Mercara Jail also the same results are exhibited. The average daily strength was within a fraction, the same as in 1877, but the average daily sick was more than doubled, and deaths increased from 18 to 29. The latter figure gives 252 per mille of the daily strength. This melancholy result is not ascribed to overcrowding although it is reported that the jail was overcrowded, but it is said that "those who died came into jail generally suffering from the effects of insufficient food in some form."

4. The truth of this is further illustrated by the vital statistics of the general population, the birth-rate was only 5·50 and the number of deaths in a population by the census numbering 168,312 was 9,106, giving 54·10 per mille, a ratio which is in excess even of that recorded in 1877 and far above the 21·34 deaths per mille which, on the average of past years, take place under ordinary circumstances. It is very probable that many of the recorded deaths occurred among distressed immigrants from Mysore, and the more so seeing that in December when returning prosperity induced Mysoreans to wander less, the death rate which in June had been as high as 8 15 had fallen to 1·81.

5. About $\frac{5}{6}$ths of the registered mortality was from fever. Cholera scarcely made its appearance during the year, and small-pox though more prevalent and fatal than has been the case since 1873, did not account for nearly so many deaths as bowel-complaints, the high rate of mortality from the latter cause being an additional proof that the distressed and weakly condition of the people was a pregnant cause of the year's sickness.

6. There are only two Dispensaries in Coorg, one at Mercara and one at Virarajendrapet ; the accommodation for in-patients is sufficient for 32 ; but during the year there were on an average 66·41 in-patients in the two dispensaries, and the report does not give the measures adopted to afford increased accommodation. The number of patients both out and in increased, and the mortality among those treated as hospital patients was 35·63 per cent. The high mortality in Virarajendrapet is ascribed, and no doubt correctly ascribed, to the institution of a famine relief camp at the dispensary. In a year of unusual sickness these dispensaries have been of great benefit.

7. The vaccination establishment has been remodelled during the year, and besides two additional Vaccinators, an Inspector has been appointed to supervise operations. It is soon to judge of the change by results, but the immediate effect has been to raise the number of operations from 1,132 to 2,509, and the ratio of successful cases from 75·23 to 77·91. This has been attained at a cost of Rs. 897 against Rs. 360 in the previous year, but it must be remarked that the cost of each successful case which was 6 as. 9½ p. is less by 1½ annas than in the year before.
